Conversation: Update on Pedestrian Struck 1300 McCallie Avenue

Friday, November 6, 2009

Family Notifications have been made on the fatal pedestrian struck that occurred yesterday around 4:06 p.m. in the 1300 block of McCallie Avenue. Although the official report is not yet available, the following updated information is ready for release.

It was learned during the Investigation of the incident, that two separate crashes occurred that were related.

Crash#1: Complaint # 09-109089

A Mitsubishi Lancer driven by Shenelle Duncan of Chattanooga, was traveling westbound on McCallie Ave crossing over the railroad bridge when a pedestrian crossed in front of the car and was struck. According to the driver and witnesses, the pedestrian began crossing the street and saw the car coming and tried to cross back onto the sidewalk. The car was unable to avoid the collision. No charges to be filed in this crash. The pedestrian's condition is considered critical at Erlanger Hospital.

Crash #2: Complaint #09-109090

A Jeep Cherokee, driven by Carly Wells of Lynchburg, TN, was traveling eastbound on McCallie Ave where the initial crash occurred. According to the driver, her attention was focused on the first crash and was not looking in front of her when she struck the Dodge Ram pickup. The driver of the Dodge had stopped and was believed to be going to assist with the first crash when he and his vehicle were struck by the Jeep Cherokee. He was pronounced dead at Erlanger Hospital. Charges are pending against this driver.
