Religion does little, if anything to solve the problems we face at home and around the world. In fact, it often creates or heightens them. Take, for example, the carnage that results from the global radical Islamic agenda.

Our biggest problem is sin. Religion can't help with this deadly blight. Our only hope is personal, eternal reconciliation with God, which can only take place by way of a relationship with His Son Jesus Christ, who died on the Cross and rose from the grave to make that possible.
